By attuning thought to the field of unified awareness
One gains the ability to consciously shape dreams
The expansive vibration of thought aligning with
The vision one seeks to ground in physical reality
Should an individual break free of society's shackles
No external force shall influence the mind
Or distort the vision of what one seeks to create
A firm belief in the endeavor providing motivation
To cast aside doubt to usher in the desired changes
Required for the growth of the immortal soul